

Take Part in a New Clinical Study using a Remote, Digital Intervention for Heart Failure Patients

Study Information:

We are looking for men and women diagnosed with Heart Failure to take part in an exciting and low-burden clinical study using a remote, web-based platform which you can access from your smartphone.

For the study, we will provide you with a blood pressure cuff and a weigh scale to take measurements every day. Your health information related to your hospitalizations, clinic visits and Heart Failure Events will be collected throughout the duration of the study (approximately 6 months).

Must be:

- ✓ Ages 18 and older
- ✓ Diagnosed with Heart Failure AND Ejection Fraction of $\leq 40\%$ within the past year
- ✓ Access to a smartphone

What's Involved:

- Contact Shelley Sherk at \(850\)769-0329 for more details and to see if you qualify
- Sign the Consent Form
- Receive training on the Story Health Platform
- Start taking measurements at home!

What you'll receive:

- Close follow-up with your study physician as we monitor your daily blood pressure and weight measurements
- Dedicated care team to answer questions throughout the study
- Contribute to science and research for people living with Heart Failure!
